

SIX AMERICAN NAVY PLANES LAND IN HONOLULU

MAY COMMANDEER FEDERAL RESERVE GOLD SUPPLIES

ROOSEVELT AND AIDES CONFER ON QUESTION

Some New Move In Money Program Planned

By Richard L. Turner.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt talked over the question of commandeering the gold held by the federal reserve system with advisors late today and thereby gave rise to immediate reports that some new move in his monetary program was impending.

The presence of Attorney General Cummings at the gathering contributed to the impression that the administration's study of this step, which has been in progress for several weeks, had reached a point at which its legality was under examination.

Meanwhile, awaiting House and Senate action on the bill to prolong the life of the Reconstruction Corporation for another year and give it $50,000,000 of new capital, in congressional quarters several influential Democrats expressed the opinion that the time was at hand for the corporation to place increasing emphasis upon withdrawal from direct participation in the affairs of the banks.

Mounting indications were that when the measure, now approved by both House and Senate banking committees, comes up for consideration on the floor, this subject will be thoroughly discussed and complaints of undue interference in the affairs of banks voiced by conservative Republicans and some members of the president's own party.

The day also saw a renewed appeal from Senator King (D., Utah), for remonetization of silver. Addressing the Senate he asserted that "gold is too scarce to serve the needs of the world" and argued that the remonetization of silver "would increase the prices of agricultural and other commodities."

In the House, wheat state members were forming an organization to endeavor to bring silver advocates into agreement upon one measure.

The Reconstruction Corporation's price for newly mined gold was continued today at $34.96, unchanged since December 18. Meanwhile bar gold was selling for $32.44 at London, the basis of an exchange rate of $3.10 to the pound sterling.

Treasury action to commandeer the gold held by the federal reserve system as a step preliminary to revealing the dollar has been urged by several members of the congressional inflationary group, notably Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, who has prepared a bill to bring about such action.

Treasury officials have said that no legislation is necessary to empower the administration to take such action and that abundant authority exists in the emergency banking laws.

'Finish Line' of Navy Flyers' 2400-Mile Pacific Hop

Diamond Head, slumbering Hawaiian volcano, shown here silhouetted against billowy clouds, is the majestic landmark, U. S. Naval airmen viewed as they neared the end of their hazardous mass flight from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor.

Diamond Head, long extinct, rising above famous Waikiki beach at the southern tip of Oahu, is within sight of Honolulu and near Pearl Harbor, where the longest over-water mass flight in history ended.

2400 MILE TRIP IS COMPLETED WITHOUT MISHAP

Charles Mack Of 'Two Black Crows' Auto Crash Victim

Mesa, Ariz., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Charles E. Mack, of the "Two Black Crows," vaudeville team, Moran and Mack, was injured fatally in an automobile accident six miles east of here tonight. He died in the southside hospital here.

George Moran, the other member of the team, Mack Sennett, motion picture producer, Mrs. Mack and Mary Jane Mack, a daughter, all riding in the same car, escaped unhurt or with minor cuts and bruises. Moran and Sennett after emergency treatment at the hospital, were permitted to go to hotel here.

Mrs. Mack suffered a back injury which physicians said was not serious. She and Miss Mack, who received only slight cuts and bruises, remained in the hospital tonight.

PLANES IN AIR SLIGHTLY MORE THAN 24 HOURS

Fly Blind Thru Fog Hundreds Of Miles

Honolulu, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The greatest overseas mass flight in aviation history was completed with clocklike precision here today as six American navy planes carrying thirty men on a swift 2400-mile "routine" transfer from California to Hawaii alighted at Pearl harbor in 1-2-3 order.

All Honolulu roared and screamed with the din of welcome as the big planes landed out of the northeast, thundered past sinister Diamond Head and the glittering sands of Waikiki and on to the gentle waters of Pearl harbor.

The over-all elapsed time of the planes in the air was 26 hours and 11 minutes, but the flying time in formation from the Golden Gate across the perilous stretch of the Pacific to Pearl harbor was 24 hours and 45 minutes, official time.

McGinnis' flagship drew up to the seaplane ramp the large crowd at the scene applauded wildly. McGinnis stepped ashore to be showered with "hoos" many of the bright tokens were hanging about his neck.

"Thank you; do you mind if I light a cigarette?" were his first words. The crowd didn't mind. Instead it broke through the barriers, commandeered the flight commander and other members of his squadron.

Commander Wayne Tod, in charge of the fleet air base, led McGinnis to a microphone where words of greeting were spoken by Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnall, commander of aircraft of the battle force; Governor Lawrence M. Judd, Major General Briant Wells and Mayor Fred Wright. The latter read congratulations from Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco.

Replying McGinnis said: "I am glad it is at behind us. It was a tough trip. We ran into fog and heavy weather from 7 o'clock last night until early this morning. Visibility was poor all the way in."

"In behalf of the members of my squadron I am glad to accept your aloha."

The commander then introduced several members of his squadron, including T. P. Wilkinson of Pensacola, Fla., chief aviation pilot who was assistant pilot in the McGinnis plane. McGinnis said much of the success of the flight was due to Wilkinson. G. C. Eddy, the radioman who sat at the key in McGinnis' plane, also was presented. Other members of the squadron were hesitant to talk about the flight and appeared weary. They expressed a desire for rest as soon as possible.

Preparations had been made to give the fliers a luncheon at the air base, but they all said they had plenty of food en route and preferred going to bed.

Day in Washington

By the Associated Press.

President Roosevelt and Attorney General Cummings discussed a proposal to call federal reserve gold into the treasury.

The Senate voted to outlaw public or private financial transactions with debt-defaulting nations.

Congress passed the liquor tax bill, minus penalties which the Senate proposed Wednesday on imports from debt-defaulters.

President Roosevelt's strength in the House was demonstrated by a test vote.

Edsel Ford parried questions of Senate investigators about tax payments on the Ford millions.

The Senate adopted a Republican resolution requiring weekly reports of emergency expenditures.

House Democrats called a caucus on patronage troubles.

Secretary Morgenthau said large whiskey importations were being allowed "to break the bootlegger."

The public works administration allotted $12,457,832 to 87 non-federal projects in many states.

EDSEL FORD IS CHIEF WITNESS AT TAX HEARING

Transactions With Detroit Bank Revealed

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A study of whether a desire to lessen tax assessments entered into some of the transactions of the Ford interests with the Guardian Trust of Detroit was disclosed today by a Senate Committee during the testimony of Edsel Ford.

It will be pursued further tomorrow by Ferdinand Pecora, the committee counsel, with Kenneth McCarren, chairman of the Detroit Board of City Assessors, on the stand.

Ford Testifies
Edsel Ford, son of the manufacturer, testified with ease and nonchalance for more than an hour and a half today regarding losses he and the company sustained in the banks. He denied that cash had been converted into bonds in an effort to reduce the amount of taxes due.

He told how the Ford interests had more than $32,000,000 on deposit in the various units and had heavy stockholdings when the banking holiday came early last year.

With his attorney, Louis Colombo, offering frequent advice, Ford explained the purchase of $7,500,000 worth of government bonds from the Guaranty Trust Company of New York at the close of 1932 as a step to prevent showing too large an amount in cash on hand in the company's statement. He said the transaction was handled by the Guardian Banks and the funds for the purchase were on deposit in Detroit.

He protested emphatically when Pecora, committee counsel, suggested it also was done to avoid payment of a state tax involved in the purchase. An opinion of the state's attorney general was relied upon to justify that belief, he said.

Pecora made it known he was still dissatisfied, however, by asking that Ford produce a copy of the opinion when he returned to the stand tomorrow, and by summoning McCarren to testify tomorrow.

The younger Ford added to his explanation of conversion of cash into bonds that "there usually was a big statement in the papers" when the annual report was made public, "and we didn't care about it."

In detailing the help given by the Ford interests to the bank when the institutions met difficulty, Ford told of a loan of $1,000,000 to the Guardian Detroit Company in December, 1930, because it was without enough collateral to cover loans. He testified that the money had not been repaid.

DECLARE DIVIDEND

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Producers' Livestock Commission, a co-operative for farmers, today declared a 10 per cent dividend.

Last year the organization handled 20.3 per cent of the livestock arriving at the National Stock Yards here, it was announced by Harry M. Wright, general manager.

This included 16,059 cars from 33 states. The largest receipts were from Illinois. Missouri was second and Texas third.

TUNNEL THRU WALL

Duquoin, Ill., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Burglars last night tunneled through a 13 inch brick wall of the Midwest Wholesale Grocery Company here and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot.

ONE WAR DEBT PENALTY DIES IN U. S. SENATE

Heavy Tax On Liquors Is Removed From Measure

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The senate struck down one penalty for war debt defaulters today and immediately set up another equally, if not more, severe.

According to white house opposition, the heavier tax that had been laid upon defaulters from foreign debt defaulting nations was removed from the liquor tax bill. Hardly had the voting ended before Senator Johnson (R., Calif.) called up a measure forbidding financial transactions, either public or private, with foreign governments whose debts are in default.

This, however, probably will be voted on again by the senate.

The Johnson measure struck directly at the flotation in this country of bonds of those governments, chief of which is France.

3 FIREMEN DIE IN STORE FIRE AT AURORA, ILL.

Firefighters Are Trapped Under Falling Walls of Five-Ten Cent Store

Aurora, Ill., Jan. 11.—Searchers picking through the smoldering ruins of a five and ten cent store in the heart of Aurora's business district tonight found the last body of three firemen killed in fighting the blaze which destroyed the building.

The seared forms of Captains Herbert L. Reiss, 37, and John Petersohn were taken from the debris early this morning soon after the three men had been hurled into the basement of the structure by the sudden collapse of the front wall. The body recovered tonight was that of Fireman Charles Hoffman, 35, who donned a gas mask and entered the flaming three-story building shortly before the crash had been found.

Five other firemen, a policeman and a spectator were in an Aurora hospital suffering from burns and smoke. One, Albert Burkholder, was critically hurt. He suffered possible internal injuries, broken ribs and a leg fracture.

Other injured were: Fireman Barney Meisch, 34, broken shoulder, crushed arm; Fireman Robert Bauman, 40, crushed foot; Capt. Carl Patterson, 46, finger amputation; Fireman John Kramp, 45, overcome; Patrolman Frank Carroll, overcome; and Alphonse Van Heck, 20, overcome.

Fire Chief Lloyd Gramley, revising his estimate of damage done to the structure, stock and to adjoining buildings, placed the total loss at $300,000. He said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

STATE LIQUOR BILL WILL GO TO CONFERENCE

Lower House Refuses To Concur In The Amendments

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Further revision of the special session liquor control bill was insisted upon by the House of Representatives this afternoon, but Senate absentees made it necessary to postpone until next week the next step in the current compromise negotiations.

The House could muster only 49 of the necessary 102 votes for concurrence in the changes made by Senate amendments to the bill. There were 65 opposing votes, while three members took no stand.

That put the next move up to the Senate, but nothing could be done because most of the members, including the Democratic leaders, had gone home.

Order Session Monday.

The result was that a Monday afternoon session was ordered, at which time the upper house will decide whether it should recede from its position favoring its amendments, refusal to recede is certain, and a conference committee of senators and representatives will be named to iron out the differences.

Members of the recent "ghost voting" outcry prevented a vote on recession by the dozen or more senators attending the perfunctory session this afternoon. In the past, when the question of a quorum was not raised, similar points have been settled and recorded by a viva voce vote of those present.

Action in the House bore out predictions that most of the legislators have individual objections to some part of the present bill and that considerable negotiation will be necessary to put it in a shape acceptable to a two-thirds majority of both houses, permitting emergency enactment.

The technical and complicated procedure in getting a conference committee on the job is as follows:

The Senate is formally notified of the refusal of the House to concur.

The Senate votes on a motion to recede, or not to recede, from its amendments. In this case, the Horner-Kelly amendments will be insisted upon.

The House, notified of the Senate action, then refuses to concur a second time and proposes to the upper house that the conference committee be named, sending the names of its members.

The Senate appoints its membership on the committee and the negotiations between the small inter-house group begin.

MAKE LOAN

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The public works administration today made loans and grants of $4,934,000 to the South Park commissioners of Cook county, Ill., and $1,943,000 to the Cook County Lincoln Park commissioners for construction of approaches and a bridge across the Chicago river at the mouth, completing the final link in the city's outer drive.

SUBMIT LOW BID

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Warner Construction Co., of Chicago this afternoon submitted the low bid for construction of lock number 11 to be situated just above Dubuque on the Mississippi river. The bid was $1,437,811.23. The government estimate was $1,590,681.15.

Wm. Hendrickson IS ARRESTED AS KIDNAP SUSPECT

Former Highway Policeman Alleged Member of Tough Gang

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(AP)—William A. "Buck" Hendrickson, a former policeman sought throughout the country in connection with the kidnaping of John "Jake the Barber" Factor, was under secret arrest today.

An alleged member of the notorious Touhy gang, four members of which are about to go on trial here for the kidnaping of Factor, internationally known speculator, Hendrickson was seized Tuesday in a north side apartment by Captain Daniel J. Gilbert of the state's attorney's police and held incommunicado.

He once was a member of the Cook County highway police force which patrols the suburban districts through which Roger Touhy and his henchmen allegedly have conducted their liquor, gambling and kidnaping traffic.

His arrest became known when attorney William Scott Stewart, counsel for four Touhy associates in their recent kidnaping trial in St. Paul, Minn., asked his release on a writ of habeas corpus. Chief Justice Philip J. Finnegan continued the hearing until tomorrow, when Capt. Gilbert asked the court for further time to investigate.

Hendrickson was on the last list of "public enemies" announced by police. Gilbert's office said he had no known police record.

"He is the sole important surviving or free member of the Touhy gang," state's attorney Thomas Courtney told the court. "He is the policeman mentioned by victims of kidnapers, particularly in the Factor case. His arrest completes the disorganization of the Touhy gang."

Rumors flew throughout the criminal courts building that Hendrickson had talked volubly about the activities of the Touhys, and that he might take the stand for the state against his alleged associates of the past.

Roger Touhy, Edward McFadden, Gus Schaefer and Albert Kator are to go on trial Tuesday on charges of kidnaping the former Chicago barber who made a fortune in stock operations on two continents.

"Red Emma"

So they are going to let Emma Goldman come back to the United States? The country which found her to be a dangerous anarchist, which expelled her from its borders, which deported her for her activities against the selective draft during the World War, again is to permit her presence within its boundaries. Announcement that the United States will tolerate a ninety day visit from "Red Emma" is a slap in the face of the American people. If a person is dangerous to our form of government, a confirmed anarchist, an international trouble-maker with a long-time record, why let her come back at all?

Emma Goldman was deported by this government in 1919 because of her frequent clashes with American institutions and ideals. She went to Russia, but Russia didn't want her. Since she was banished from this country she has wandered about in Europe, lecturing, and trying to stir up the peoples of various countries against the United States. She has been a public eye again. She says she will refrain from political speeches, that she will not put up as she used to do. Federal operatives no doubt will see that her word is kept. Uncle Sam, it seems, has just relented a bit and doesn't mind Emma's visit so long as she behaves herself.

Thus, with the permission of the bureau of immigration, one of the world's most notorious anarchist leaders will cross the border again, this time on the way in instead of out. The woman whose speeches, according to her own confession, inspired the mind of President McKinley's assassin against the American government, will be a guest in the United States. The woman who toured the country with Alexander Berkman, preaching anarchism, will have opportunity to again see the familiar faces and scenes of her earlier years. The woman who used her influence to block the draft of men when the United States was at war will be back among us, a reminder of those days when she was preaching the gospel of chaos and ruin.

Her name is Mrs. James Colton now—she married a Welch coal miner. To the average American, loyal to his government, foe of anarchism, she is still "Red Emma." If Uncle Sam is to be chided for the way he has handled this case it is not for sending Emma Goldman away, but for letting her come back.

Weather in an Onion Skin
For many years now a Marshfield, Wis., cobbler, Ewald Benesch, has given that community accurate forecasts of the year's weather by reading what is written on onion skins. The cobbler peels the onion and reads the weather layer by layer, doubling with tears in his eyes. He must have been weeping rather copiously when he got the message for 1934.

According to his onion skin rite, this year is to be mostly wet. There will be much snow during the winter months, and rain the rest of the time except in September. Doubtless Mr. Benesch can also tell us why we have had so little snow this winter, or maybe the onion reads differently in Illinois than in Wisconsin.

Fortunately Jacksonville does not have to depend on onion skins for its weather forecasts. This city has in Dr. Frank P. Norbury a weather observer who has a scientific understanding of the entire subject. He has made weather phenomena a life study and has mastered its intricate detail with his usual characteristic thoroughness.

Few cities have the advantage of expert weather observation, but many have their weather prophets who make more or less accurate guesses at the weather because of their ability to read the natural signs. Such predictions are based on past experience on good memory, but not on scientific knowledge.

Pages and Child Labor
The country has been reminded by the press that Congress, which passed the proposed child labor amendment to the constitution, and approved the NRA abolition of child labor, persists in keeping its eyes shut. This city has in Dr. Frank P. Norbury a weather observer who has a scientific understanding of the entire subject. He has made weather phenomena a life study and has mastered its intricate detail with his usual characteristic thoroughness.

laws it expects others to observe puts the law-making branch of the government in a bad role. It sets a bad example for industrialists who have been forced to do away with child labor and would go back to it if they had a chance. Child labor is wrong, and the nation is realizing it. The ratification of the constitutional amendment prohibiting it now seems certain. President Roosevelt has earned high praise for the abolition of a system which kept children from their childhood and deprived them of an education. If child labor is to go, and there is now little doubt of it, it must go from the halls of Congress as well as from the mills and the foundries.

Purified Prohibition
Prohibition forces, calling the roll in their shattered ranks after the disastrous defeat of 1933, find that they still have much to be thankful for. Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, head of the Anti-Saloon League, points out that there still are 25 dry states, and adds that there are extensive dry territories in practically all the wet states.

Whether this dry area will be extended or diminished in the near future is wholly a matter for guesswork. But viewing the whole problem in the light of the last decade's experience, one is inclined to believe that prohibition today, in the areas where it does exist, is on a much sounder basis than was the case prior to repeal of the 18th amendment.

A dry state, henceforth, can be assumed to be a state that is dry because prohibition suits the majority of its inhabitants, and not because it has been forced to conform to a law that the majority dislikes. There is a world of difference.

Will Disposes of $140,000 Estate

Pittsfield, Jan. 11.—The last will and testament of Mrs. Ida Strauss Lindauer, made April 13, 1932, and witnessed by A. H. Fellheimer, Wilbert Campbell and H. G. Nunebaum, all residents of Pontiac, Ill., has been filed for probate in the county court here. The estate consists of real estate worth about $40,000, and personal property estimated at $100,000.

Her brothers, William, Henry and Benjamin Strauss, and her brother-in-law, J. C. Greenbaum, of Pontiac, are named as executors. Within one year after the probate of the will, they are to pay the following sums: $5,000 to a nephew, Henry E. Greenbaum, $5,000 to a niece, Elizabeth Greenbaum; $10,000 to a nephew, Frederick Brucker; $250 to Amelia M. Grande of Chicago; $250 to Anna N. Pistoria of Canton; $500 to Lillian Hatfield of Canton; and $250 to Helen Pousch of Canton. These bequests are to be free of any state inheritance tax or federal estate tax; if any such tax be imposed, the executors are to pay same from the estate.

In the event Henry E. Greenbaum should die before testatrix, his bequest of $5,000 was to go to his mother, Helen Greenbaum. Under similar conditions, the $5,000 bequest to Elizabeth Greenbaum was also to go to her mother, Helen Greenbaum, and the $10,000 left to Fred Brucker was to go to his mother, Mrs. Sadie Brucker.

The rest, residue and remainder of the estate, real, personal and mixed she left to the four executors for the following purposes: From the net income therefrom each year, trustees are to pay to her cousin, Etta Jacobs of Philadelphia, $10,000; said trustees are to pay her also $750 of the corpus of said sum of $10,000 for a period of 10 years. In the event of the death of Etta Jacobs, then Helen Bernice Jacobs, niece of said Etta Jacobs, shall receive from the trustees the sum which may remain in their hands.

Members of the squadron said they encountered no rain and that the plane Number 5 becoming isolated from the formation during parts of the trip was due to fog and haze.

With the exception of plane Number 5, all six guard ships stationed along the route sighted the entire squadron. Number 5 missed the ships Breese and Whippoorwill, but its commander, Lieut. St. John Perry, said he had known his position at all times and had no trouble rejoining the squadron.

The gasoline supplies of the planes were more than sufficient for the 2,400 miles.

A quick move to San Francisco preceded their epochal flight to Hawaii, where they will be stationed permanently.

In many respects this aerial odyssey differed from the overseas flights of the past. Outstanding was the virtual absence of fear for the safety of the thirty men participating.

The success of the adventure seemed to have been taken for granted from the instant the last plane left the waters of Paradise Cove in San Francisco Bay.

There were no expressions of anxiety from relatives; no speculation on whether the gasoline supplies would hold out; no fear that the navigators would shoot wide of their goal.

The tone of the farewells and the matter-of-fact orders pertaining to the flight reflected the certainty felt by the officers in charge.

Just before boarding his plane, Lieutenant Commander McGinnis gave each of his colleagues a pat on the back and vowed they would eat pineapples in Hawaii today. Admiral David F. Schley, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, wireless McGinnis a message of confidence and the fleet became what senior officers called a "routine" affair.

The troubles of the squadron however were more numerous than had been expected.

Lack of wind delayed the takeoff and four of the planes battled for two hours before they got into the air with their heavy loads. Each plane loaded weighed about 20,000 pounds.

There were the inevitable fogs thru which the adventurous squadron had to pass during the night, but this was perhaps not as trying as the feat of making the long flight in formation.

The 10-P-4, piloted by Lieut. T. D. Guinn of Atlanta, Georgia, circled about over San Francisco Bay nearly two hours, using its precious gasoline and getting nowhere at all, while waiting for the other planes to rise.

McGinnis' plane did likewise for about an hour and 40 minutes.

Some 600 miles off the Golden Gate the squadron dove into its first fog bank and the 10-P-5, commanded by Lieut. St. John Perry of Greenville, S. C., became temporarily lost but rejoined the formation upon emerging from the hanging clouds. Four or five hundred miles farther out, Perry got lost again in the same manner, but again came back.

Fair weather forecasts turned out to be somewhat inaccurate, but onward the planes roared, flying "blind" but still in formation through fog during most of the night thereafter.

The dangers of free flying in the general area are enough to satisfy the adventure pangs of most aviators, but those of taking a squadron of ships through utter darkness and keeping in formation is something more. Without instruments, flights often lose all sense of direction, and have been known to let their planes head downward to certain ill fate or toward some other disastrous area.

But squadron No. 10 had a generous section of the navy back of it. Six ships, stationed approximately 300 miles apart along the course, cooperated with lights and wireless to keep the planes headed aright. Through these ships McGinnis and his planes were in unbroken communication with naval headquarters in San Francisco and Honolulu.

For the six men in each plane there was 75 pounds of food, mostly in concentrated form, and ten gallons of water. Each ship also was equipped with a collapsible boat capable of sustaining the crew in cases of forced landing and abandonment. Instruments designed through years of trial and error in ocean flying were at the hand of every plane commander. There was no guessing.

PRESIDENT IS SAVED BY FIVE VOTE MARGIN

An attempt to prevent its passage in protest against the economy rider, Republicans who have only 11 members to the Democrat's 313, were so surprised by the anti-economy showing that they cheered vociferously when the vote was announced. The Democrats, more surprised, sat silent.

The thing that made it especially surprising to the Democratic chieftains was that they had said flatly that President Roosevelt wanted the legislation and had approved the procedure under which it was being considered.

Chairman Buchanan of the appropriations committee read a letter from the president expressing "hope the Congress will enact the legislative economy provisions referred to in my budget message."

And in another letter to Buchanan, the president added:

"The problem of returning as quickly as possible to a balanced budget is a matter of the highest importance. Results of the economy act of last spring would be unfortunate for the very simple reason that we are very definitely still in an emergency period, in which all of us are seeking to bring back recovery as quickly as possible."

Not a single Republican or Farm-Labor member voted with the president. Democrats providing all of the winning 197 ballots.

But 84 Democrats joined with 103 Republicans and the five Farm-Laborites to pile up the unexpected total against the proposition.

Actually, the vote was on what many members called a "rag rule." It waived parliamentary laws so that the economy provisions might be attached to the appropriations bill supplying funds to run 16 governmental independent offices in the next fiscal year; it forbade any amendments to those economy provisions; and any amendments to subsequent appropriations bills which would conflict with the extended economy law.

The economy legislation today did not touch the veterans, either to extend their cuts or restore them.

The veterans' cuts are part of basic law now and must be gotten at in a bill to amend the law.

The federal pay cut, now 15 per cent, would have expired at the beginning of the next fiscal year—July 1—without the economy legislation asked by the president.

STERILIZATION INVESTIGATION GETS UNDERWAY

Williams said his information was that "the rights of the individual and their parents were wantonly violated," and compared the practice to the much publicized experiment of the Nazis in Germany.

He said he had been informed that a social worker for the training school had induced some of the parents of inmates to give consent for sterilization operations by representing that they were signing petitions for release of their children.

Dr. Haskell said the social worker named assured him there was no basis for that charge and added, "I think there is some error there."

Of the charges in general, he said they were made "under considerable misapprehension."

No child has been sterilized at the training school except where application has been made to the court by the family of the child, not by the training school, he said. "Everything has been done according to law." The family, he said, was in court when each order was entered.

He explained further that no attempt has been made to invoke another section of the law which authorizes the head of an institution to initiate proceedings for sterilization of inmates through the governing board and the state welfare commission.

Of the twenty home patients sterilized, Dr. Haskell said that 14 were boys and 47 girls. The ratio, he said, was about the same in other state institutions. The disparity, he said, is due to the difference in "risk that the two sexes constitute to the community."

Ases of the patients, he said, probably range from 16 to 20.

A few months ago, a young man in Oceana county, Michigan, secured a $3,200 judgment against three county officials whom he charged with inducing him to submit to a sterilization operation. The case is to be retried soon.

DR. WYNEKOOP ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

nurses were Walter Wynekoop and his sister, Catherine, a physician in her own right.

Perhaps 90 percent of the crowd that clamored for entrance to the court was composed of women. Some of them had waited since as early as 7 A. M., three hours before the scheduled opening of the trial.

ONE WAR DEBT PENALTY DIES IN U. S. SENATE

Removal of the debt restriction from the tax bill cleared the way for house agreement to the half-billion dollar money measure and plans were made for calling it up there before adjournment today in order to expedite the effectiveness of the tax.

While the house was embroiled in dispute over the rigid method of procedure worked out by the Democratic leaders to secure speedy enactment of provisions to continue the pay cut and veterans allowance reductions for another year, two senate committees were digging into the Detroit banking collapse and turning up deep furrows across the air mail contract field.

Edsel Ford, son of the Detroit manufacturer, told of the $32,500,000 his company had in the Guardian Trust company when it was closed by the Michigan Bank holiday and of deposits that had been made. Ferdinand Pecora, the committee investigator, said there was some question whether some millions of this could have been subject to taxes if a transfer had not been made and that he intended to inquire further into this angle tomorrow.

Several operators of independent air lines testified that they had been forced into consolidations with large companies because of the lack of consideration shown their bids for air mail contracts by the postoffice department. Fred G. Coburn, a New York management engineer, testified that Walter F. Brown, former postmaster general, had directed the allocation of air mail routes that had resulted in some of the combinations.

In house committees work went forward on the administration bill to guarantee by the federal government $2,000,000,000 of farm loan bonds. William I. Myers, head of the farm credit administration, said the government desired to get these bonds into the hands of private citizens and release government money for other purposes.

In neither house nor senate was any disposition shown to rally serious opposition to the president's program, although a prolonged argument was impending on the St. Lawrence water treaty. A knotty opposition remained to be hewn before the way would be open for ratification of the treaty with Canada but the president called this "sectional" in character.

Another of the series of critical gestures that have been made by the Republicans came during the day in the form of a resolution, adopted by the senate, calling on the budget director to forward to the senate the weekly reports of emergency expenditures asked for several days ago by President Roosevelt. Today's resolution came from Senator Dickinson (R. Iowa) who has thrown many hard words in the direction of the presidential program.

No chief element of dissatisfaction manifested itself among house Democrats. They called a caucus, demanded by a petition signed by 28 members, to discuss patronage matters.

The opposition waited, however, before the war debt issue and the economy measure sought by the president to force ratification of the treaty with Canada but the president called this "sectional" in character.

Woman's Club Will Hear Welfare Talk

Mrs. J. Marshall Miller, president of the Jacksonville Woman's Club, announces that plans are complete for the meeting on Saturday afternoon.

The Honorable A. L. Bowen will address the club at 2:30 o'clock in the D. A. R. Chapter House.

Mr. Bowen was recently appointed director of the department of public welfare. Prior to that appointment, he was the state superintendent of charities for many years. His very careful study of the various phases of welfare work, his close, kindly supervision of, and his personal acquaintances with the afflicted themselves have brought about splendid results. His recommendations for the care, treatment and training of state wards have been instrumental in raising the standards of the state institutions to their present degree of efficiency.

His versatility as a writer is recognized in the column entitled "Ben's Comments" appearing in the Illinois State Journal.

Delegation Confers on State Aid Road

A delegation of property owners residing northwest of Jacksonville went to the county house Tuesday and conferred with the commissioners on the proposal of a state aid road to serve their territory. The highway under consideration extends from the Morgan county farm to the Cass county line, a distance of about 11 miles. The members of the delegation were told to proceed with plans for procuring the right-of-way.

The road extends on north from the county home through Arcadia precinct. In the delegation meeting with the county board were C. C. McNear, Edward Houston, Ted Rutherford, Harry Ogle, Vinton Bourn, George Tuttle, Otis Mason and John Ginder.

Edward Houston has been named president of the group interested in the road, and Lloyd Ogle is secretary. Three committees have been appointed by the property owners to go ahead with obtaining the necessary right-of-way to widen the road to meet state specifications.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks and appreciation for the sympathy and assistance extended in the death of our beloved Earl, for the flowers sent, and the use of cars.

Gilbert Ogle, sisters and brother.

Stuffy Head

Just a few drops up each nostril. Quickly breathing again becomes clear!

The husky dog the Tines hitched grew frisky. It just seemed he liked to tear away, but Scouty said, "Hey, fellow, you must wait."

"We're not quite ready for our ride, I guess I'd best stand by your side. It won't be long till you can run at quite a speedy gait."

"However, you'll find out that we are just as heavy as can be. Six Tinesmites, you know, weigh heaps, and we'll ride at once."

The Eskimo lad cried, "Why, say, he'll haul you all and run away. He's used to pulling heavy loads. It's one of his best stunts."

"When you're all seated on the sled, whoever drives must use his head. Hang to the lines and pull them tight. If my dog runs too fast."

"He's peppy, and may tug a bit, but if you keep on doing it, he'll know you're trying to stop him and he'll slow right down, at last."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Scouty. "Sakes alive! Why fret, when I am going to drive? I'll make your hound behave himself. I've driven dogs before."

"We're ready, now, to go, I guess. I hope the trip's a big success. Hop on, all of you Tines! There's a great big treat in store."

Just then wee Duncy had a hunch. Thought he, I guess I'll fool the bunch. Brave Scouty thinks he's going to drive, but I will spoil his plan. He then jumped on the sled and cried, "Come on, hound, let's start on this ride." It took the Tines by surprise, when off the big dog ran.

"Hey, wait for us! one Tiny cried."

Average Man Wants Work, Not Charity

An explanation of the organization that forms the local Civil Works Administration was made by Mrs. T. J. Kelly, C.W.A. Administrator, at the Thursday meeting of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club. Mrs. Kelly stated that officers of the C.W.A. at Chicago have told her that the Morgan county organization is the best organized county in central Illinois.

The work being done by the C.W.A. is almost totally federal, said the speaker, who asserted that she is now employed by the federal government. The Civil Works Administration took over the work of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Relief is not what the average citizen wants, said Mrs. Kelly. The men want to work, men of 70 years of age plead for it and boys under the age required lie about their ages in an effort to get on the job. The government is stressing the fact that the C.W.A. work is not to be considered as charity every man is expected to earn what he is paid.

The men who are employed by the C.W.A. are requisitioned from the National Re-employment Service, of which W. T. Harmon is director. Mr. Harmon now directs this service in seven counties.

While the C.W.A. provides employment for the able bodied men relief must go on for the indigent, the aged widows and blind, said Mrs. Kelly.

possibilities in this territory, and expresses himself as still firmly convinced, from all indications that there is lots of good oil underlying this region.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Any flock owner who cuts down on these items therefore will be going a long way toward getting a wider margin of net return out of the cash that he receives for his eggs. It is pointed out by H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist of the college.

"Probably the best opportunity to reduce feed cost is to improve the average egg production of each hen in the flock, as the good layers eat but little more feed than the mediocre layers. Too many flocks carry about 20 per cent defaulters—hens that start laying and then quit—and it is this class of birds which runs up the feed cost of a dozen eggs.

"The matter of depreciation, and particularly mortality, can not be stressed too much. No flock owner who is out of the widest margin of net return should disregard the standard recommendation on disease control. More attention should be given to the matter of breeding disease-resistant stock. Herein lies an opportunity for reducing the cost of production on eggs.

"The relation of the size of flock to labor is important. Too often the size of the flock is such that it does not efficiently absorb the labor expense."

CUTTERS OF J. Capps & Sons, Ltd., are notified to report for duty Monday, Jan. 15, at 8 a. m. Other sections will be called for as needed.

The Budget Chief Puts Over a Point

Just because President Roosevelt has taken away his powers over emergency expenditures is no reason why Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas can't have a smile now and then. He is shown (right) conferring on budget problems with Congressman James P. Buchanan, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

FARM REPAIRS ARE CHANCE TO LAUNCH FAST "WORK" PLAN

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 11.—With millions of dollars worth of repairs needed on their buildings and with their products going begging for a market, Illinois farmers might well get together with the unemployment workmen of towns and cities on a "farm work project" that would be of mutual benefit to all. This is the suggestion of W. A. Foster, rural architecture specialist of the department of agricultural engineering, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Practically every farm in central Illinois—and the same is true in the northern and southern sections of the state—should have $1,500 spent on it to put the buildings in good condition. Foster points out. Buildings everywhere need paint; many roofs are badly rusted; some buildings should be torn down and the materials salvaged, while others are unsafe to use without repairs.

There are many craftsmen and handymen now idle who need some of the present farm surplus of grain for flour, meal and feed. They need hay for cow feed, a hog or a better for meat and fruits and vegetables for food, but they have no money with which to buy. The farmer, on the other hand, has a surplus of these.

"Why shouldn't farmers exchange their surplus for painting, carpentry, masonry work and similar labor much needed on every farm?" asks Foster. "Such a plan would be of genuine relief to unemployed and at the same time assist farmers in making the improvements at a minimum cost."

"Such practices existed in any communities in the past, and a return of those 'old fashioned ways' would not be so bad after all. If they feed the hungry, improve the farms and re-establish that integrity, confidence and cooperation of former days. Such an exchange of surplus for services would go a long way toward the building of prosperity and happiness during the coming spring months."

CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Makes Labels Accurate

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN. Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk"—needed to promote normal elimination.

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in a form for satisfactory results.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Confers With President on Relief for Veterans

While a bill was being sponsored in the Senate for added benefits for War veterans, J. W. McQueen, of Kansas City, Mo., national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, called on the President, as shown here, to discuss relief legislation for veterans. McQueen said he asked the President to recommend legislation to change the act of last March so that benefits might accrue to more veterans.

Jerseyville Will Welcome Visitors
With Large Signs

Jerseyville, Ill., Jan. 11.—The Jerseyville Chamber of Commerce held its regular session at the Colonial Hotel in this city Tuesday evening with forty-six members present. Fromman Beach, president of the organization, presided at the meeting and several business matters were brought before the group, but will not be made public until definite action has been taken either by the Chamber of Commerce body or by the board of directors.

A unanimous resolution was passed by the business men Tuesday evening to erect welcoming signs at the northern and southern limits of the city of Jerseyville bearing the date, "Jerseyville, the Home of Uncle Joe Page."

The action of the group was prompted by the efforts for civic welfare Mr. Page has made during his life. He has for fifty years conducted the Jersey County Democrat in Jerseyville and, at the age of eighty-eight years, is still editor and publisher of that publication.

H. P. Scott of Edwardsville, district officer of the Illinois Emergency Relief and the Civil Works Administration, and E. H. Cline, district auditor of the organizations were guests of the club Tuesday evening. Mr. Scott gave a brief address to the group explaining to them the work that the Emergency Relief and Civil Works Administration have been supervising in this county.

Music during the evening was furnished by the Jersey Township high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Catherine Chapman, supervisor of music at the school.

Fire Loss for Year Small
The annual report of Harry Blish, secretary of the Jerseyville Volunteer Fire department has been compiled and will be presented at a meeting of the group to be held Friday, January 12th at the City Hall. The report shows a fire loss in the city of between two and three thousand dollars for the past year.

There were twenty-one calls for the fire department during the year. Mrs. James H. Dix of Rockford, Ill., said: "I was terribly rundown, nervous, very thin and anemic, and did not rest well at night. Dr. Fier's Favorite Prescription strengthened me so that I regained my normal weight and I was relieved of that tired, nervous condition." All druggists. New bottles 50c; liquid $1.00. fire boys during 1933 and the prompt arrival of the men did much to keep the fire loss at a minimum. In addition to the fire alarms within the city limits, the department has responded to a number in the country where farm homes and buildings were threatened.

In the city of Jerseyville one of the largest losses sustained was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zedock Reddish on Christmas day when flames destroyed the upper story of the residence. The contents of the second story, including some valuable antique furniture was destroyed. Another heavy loss was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Monk when the residence, contents and all the clothing of the family was destroyed.

The date for the annual Firemen's ball this year has been set for Monday evening, February 5th in the National ball room. This dance is always one of the best patronized events of the year and furnishes the only remuneration received by the volunteer department.

The personnel of the fire department is as follows: William Dower, chief; Frank Bayer, assistant chief; Harry Blish, secretary; William Hanley, treasurer; H. G. Neely, commissioner; Bert O. Bell, Ray Brickey, William McFain and Edward Bray.

Court Grants Two Divorces in Cass

Virginia, Jan. 11—Glen Dyche, of Boardtown, was granted a divorce from Mrs. Lulu Frances Dyche today and Charles Dearing, of Chandler, received a divorce from Mrs. Bertha Dearing, in a hearing Monday in circuit court. Both divorces were granted on the grounds of desertion.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul, and often hives and rashes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

To take these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Rowntree's substitute. See it at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Glen Dyche, an employee of the Central Illinois Public Service Co. since 1928, stated that he and his wife had been separated since December, 1932. They were married October 6, 1931. Letters were admitted as testimony that she had refused to return to their home.

Judge A. Clay Williams granted the divorce to Charles Dearing of Chandler Monday.

Argument was presented this morning in the case of the Virginia Building and Savings Association vs. W. B. Finn. Testimony revealed that Mr. Finn had purchased the old opera house 20 years ago from the Centennial National bank with the understanding that he had a clear title to it. Repairs to the building and new fixtures were added cost him approximately $60,000. The property was then taken over by Finn E. Downing, former owner, from whom the bank obtained the building, because of a defect in the title. The Virginia Building and Savings Association is suing Mr. Finn for the balance of the payments.

An allowance of ten days was made for the defendant to file an amended answer. The issues of the case will be settled at this term of court, and the trial will be held at the March term.

REP. HUGH CROSS IS A JERSEYVILLE CLUB GUEST AND SPEAKER

Jerseyville, Jan. 11—Members of the Jerseyville Business and Professional Woman's club listened with interest to talks on Legislation given by Honorable Hugh W. Cross, representative from the 38th district, and by State's Attorney R. Clyde Chappell, at their January meeting held at the home of Miss Faye Warren on West Arch street.

The program was in charge of the Legislative Committee composed of Miss Anna Spencer, chairman, Miss Warren and Miss Minnie Barron.

Roll call was answered by "Some Interesting Article I Have Read in the Independent Woman." A roll call was also taken on the subject of voting and the response was 100% in favor of the issue, the women present stating they cast their ballot whenever it was possible.

Local governmental system was discussed by State's Attorney Chappell. He explained the duties that devolve upon the various county officials and the board of supervisors of the county, and his talk was very instructive.

Representative Cross spoke first on a number of national affairs and then centered his instruction on the procedure involved in the passage of a bill in the legislature. He reviewed the number of representatives and senators in the state legislature and outlined the district which he represents in that group.

A vocal solo was given by Miss Mary Louise Senior accompanied at the piano by Miss Kathryn Snedeker. Short talks were also given by Miss Rebecca Newcomb, president of the club and Miss Anna Spencer, committee chairman.

Copies of the Ten Year Objective which has been adopted by the National and Professional Woman's organization were given the club members by Miss Newcomb who urged them to study the contents of the book. She also told of the recognition received by the Jerseyville club in the Illinois Monthly bulletin. The regular articles on the local club activities were reviewed in the state paper and in addition an original poem by Miss Clara Sunderland, vice president of the local group was published.

Miss Spencer gave a resume of an address given at the recent meeting in Carrollton by Miss Celia Howard of this district.

Seven applications for membership in the club were voted on favorably Monday evening, all but one of whom were filed by former members of the organization, who desired to be re-instated in the group. Miss Marcella Yocum, was received as a new member and those who rejoined were Miss Minnie Barron, Miss Margaret DeBann, Mrs. Frank Powers, Miss Marie Brammiller, Miss Erma Worthey and Miss Helen Utt.

The next regular meeting of the Business Women will be on February 6th following a dinner at the Colonial hotel. The International Relationship committee will be in charge of the session.

Announcement was made of an invitation offered by the Alton organization to attend a meeting of that group on January 16th which will be preceded with a dinner at the Y. W. C. A.

Attorney and Mrs. Chappell and Representative and Mrs. Cross were guests of the Jerseyville club.

SOCIETY MEETS WITH MRS. LULA BARNHART

Mrs. Lulu Barnhart was hostess to the Ladies Aid society of the Lynxville M. E. church for the January meeting with a covered dish luncheon at the noon hour. There were twelve members and six visitors present.

The meeting opened with singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Leona Schofield.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Callie Gibbs, followed by The Lord's Prayer. Roll call answered with a verse from Isaiah.

Each member was asked what work they would like to see accomplished the coming year.

It was decided to divide the society into groups with Mrs. Kate Stephenson and Mrs. Florence Fearnough as captains. The group attending the most meetings to be entertained at a dinner by the losing side.

A poem "A New Year's Prayer," was read by Mrs. Nannie Schofield.

The next meeting will be the first Wednesday in February with Mrs. Lila Fearnough as hostess.

Grace Church Plans Book Sermon Series

Many beyond the membership of Grace Methodist church will be interested in the announcement of a series of addresses to be given at that church based on outstanding new books. Books are being selected which have a vital message to people living in 1934. These addresses will be given by some of the many outstanding leaders of thought in Jacksonville. The series will begin next Sunday night at the regular hour of evening worship and will continue for eight Sunday nights. While these addresses are properly called "Book Sermons" most of them will be given by laymen.

Many books are being published which have a vital, ethical, moral and religious interest. Jacksonville has an unusually large number of men and women who read widely, and many more who do not have the time to read many books but who will welcome the opportunity to hear the interpretation of great books by some of Jacksonville's intellectual leaders. The speakers whom the pastor has asked to co-operate with him in this series are as follows: Jan. 14, Dr. F. A. Havighurst; Jan. 21, Dr. H. C. Jaquith; Jan. 28, Prof. Gertrude Holmes; Feb. 4, Prof. Annabel Newton; Feb. 11; Dr. C. P. McClelland; Feb. 18, Dean Clara B. Williams; Feb. 25, Prof. H. H. Stratton; March 4, Dean Roma N. Hawkins.

The books have not all been chosen as yet but will be announced next week. For the coming Sunday night the pastor of the church, Dr. Freeman A. Havighurst will give the Book Sermon based on Adolph Hitler's book "My Battle" which has just been translated into English. This book "Mein Kampf" translated "My Battle" is considered as the Bible of the new movement by the Hitler party membership. The eyes of the world are today upon Hitler and his new revolutionary government. What was the cause of Hitler's rise to power? Will the Hitler policy lead to a great war "before next Christmas"? The peace of the world and the well being of humanity may depend on our understanding intelligently Hitler and his new movement.

The most cordial invitation is extended to all who do not regularly worship elsewhere to attend this series of Book Sermons beginning Sunday night.

Jurisdiction Loss by Court Seizes Renard's Release

The case of the People vs. Joe Renard, charged with assault with intent to kill, was dismissed Thursday in the court of Justice C. S. Smith. Motion to dismiss the case on the ground that the court had lost jurisdiction was made by D. J. Staley for Renard. It was shown that the case had been continued longer than ten days, the limit set by statute for one continuance.

Renard was held in jail for the shooting of Marshall Barber, which occurred late in December. Renard is alleged to have fired two shots at Barber when the latter invaded his home and threatened him. Barber is still unable to leave his home, it was reported Thursday.

When the case was dismissed, Renard was released from custody.

"HIGHEST TEST" AND anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline

THAT'S OUR STORY
and we are sticking to it

The support of motorists like yourself made 1933 the peak year in the history of the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Your growing good-will and increased purchases of Phillips 66 proved that experienced drivers appreciate honest high test gasoline at the price of regular.

Deeply grateful for this ever-expanding preference, we realize that it clearly marks out our policy and responsibility for 1934. Our pledge to the motoring public is continued with renewed emphasis:—"Highest test and anti-knock at the price of ordinary gasoline."

This is the greater value made possible by our position as world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline.

Please consider these facts before you buy your next tankful of gasoline: Phillips 66 at regular price contains tetraethyl lead, the anti-knock fluid formerly used only in premium-priced motor fuels. In addition, it is always correctly matched to your weather by the scientific principle of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, pioneered by Phillips. And its high test (gravity) is so high, that without fear of comparison we publish its rating in plain figures, below.

I particularly invite new car owners anxious to protect their motors to Phill-up with Phillips 66. You can confidently expect faster starting on freezing days, and finer performance and more mileage on every day in the year.

GYPSY MORELL and TOM WEAVER are married the same day as LILA HOTELING and DEREK BLISS. Lila expects to live in luxury, but Gypsy intends to keep her job, teaching in a settlement house.
The first night Gypsy and Tom spent in their New York apartment VERA GRAY, an old friend of Tom's, telephoned. Tom asks her to luncheon to meet Gypsy, but Gypsy can't leave her work. Later Vera calls and the two girls elude each other.
Weeks later Lila and Derek return from their honeymoon in Europe. Lila asks the Weners to dinner and Gypsy is enormously impressed by the party.

SOMEONE turned on the radio and the sound of jazz blared through the big room. Hilda Blanchard held out her arms to someone—was it Tom?—and began to dance.

Hilda was in red—flame red, and her little black curls, feathering all over her small head, gave her a slightly Grecian air. She, like Lila, affected an unearthly pallor and her lips were like a geranium slash in her pallid face. She hung on Tom. She was, Gypsy observed, almost as tall as he; while she, Gypsy, was smaller, reached only to his shoulder.

Under her laughter, her civilized air of casualness, the most primitive of all emotions began to stir—that of jealousy. It was unreasoning, she admitted it. It was mad. It was utterly without foundation. Why, she had never laid eyes on this girl before in her life, and neither had Tom. Yet, from the first moment of entering the room, she had felt a wholly foolish and feminine sensation of distrust. Hilda had liked Tom at sight, that much was certain.

"You can tell. A wife can tell," said Gypsy to herself with all the wisdom of her 22 years. Meanwhile she chattered and nodded her head; said "absolutely!" with emphasis, although she hadn't the faintest notion what Derek wanted her to agree with. Her head was in a whirl. It was all very well, she thought, for Tom to behave nicely to this girl, that was part of being a guest. But he needn't act as though she were the only person in the room. He didn't even glance to see if she (Gypsy) were having a good time; how she was faring. And they had been married only a little more than two months! Why it was monstrous! It was unbelievable!

Gypsy thought that Derek glanced at her rather oddly. She tried to collect her thoughts, to attend to what he was saying. "I beg your pardon, I'm afraid I didn't hear that. The music is so loud."
"Awful," agreed Derek. "Can't hear yourself think. I'll turn it down. I just said it was time for Marko to be here, if he's coming at all."
He left her with a murmured excuse to adjust the dial of the instrument, and Gypsy was left with the disturbing news. Marko Broughton was coming, after all!

Yet somehow the thought did not seem quite so disquieting, so disagreeable, now, as it had some hours before. Marko had been in love with her a year ago—or so he had said. Marko had wanted her to marry him, ignoring the

MAYOR NAMED TO PLAN BIRTHDAY BALL JANUARY 30

Every Community in Motion to Join in Move; Fund For Aid of Maimed

Mayor W. A. Wainwright, who was recently appointed chairman of a group of local citizens to plan for the birthday ball to be held in honor of President Roosevelt on the night of January 30, will name committees who will assist him, within a few days, it was announced yesterday. Plans are underway for a dance to be held at the Jacksonville State Hospital, with music to be furnished by the local Trades & Labor Assembly. All of the proceeds from the ball will go to create a permanent endowment for nationwide work by the Warm Springs Foundation for infantile paralysis.

About 150,000 persons in the nation are partly or wholly crippled by the ravages of infantile paralysis and most of them could be greatly benefited if adequate facilities existed, according to a statement by President Roosevelt.

To help provide those adequate facilities a Birthday Ball in honor of President Roosevelt will be held in every community in the nation on January 30.

The President's Statement.
President Roosevelt said in his statement:

"In spite of the great strides of medical science and the many generous gifts of preventive medicine, comparatively little has been accomplished in helping to restore to active and useful citizenship the more than 300,000 people in America who are partly or wholly crippled. About half of this number are victims of infantile paralysis. Most of them could be greatly benefited if adequate facilities existed."

Many of the leading orthopaedic surgeons have come to recognize the growing importance of physiotherapy, especially when these directed exercises are given in the medium of water. Certainly the results obtained so far at Georgia Warm Springs prove the value of warm water treatment.

"Placing the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation on a permanent and much larger basis, means not only effective work among more patients there, but eventually the establishment of similar centers in many other sections of the country."

"I think most cripples, children or adults, are worth taking an interest in. Economically, restorative work is sound; humanely, it is right. It is reaching out to a field which no other agency is now adequately caring for. We need pioneers."

The last union service in the week of Prayer Services will be held tonight at the Methodist church, the pastor Rev. Freeman A. Havighurst, presiding. The musical portion of the service will be led by Grace Church Men's Chorus directed by Howard Postler with Miss Lillian Braden as organist. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. T. Harley Mersh. The order of service will be as follows:

Hymn.
Prayer—Rev. W. A. Richards.
(For the Church of Christ)
Anthem—Men's Chorus.

Hymn.
Prayer—Rev. M. L. Pontius.
(That Statesmen and People may in all nations be guided by the Spirit of Christ.)

CHARLES E. SOUZA, President

MRS. SCHIMMEL IS SPEAKER AT D. A. R. MEETING

On Thursday afternoon the Rev. James Caldwell chapter D. A. R. met in the chapter house with a large attendance of members and several out of town guests.

Miss Katherine Barr, Regent of the society presided and introduced Mrs. A. W. Schimmel of Pittsfield, who presented the subject of "National Defense." Mrs. Schimmel, a chairman of National Defense and President of the Twentieth District Federation of Women's clubs, has made a wide study of this important subject. She spoke with fluency and great sincerity, holding the close attention of the audience with the inspiration of her remarks. The speaker emphasized the physical side of the question and stated that many important measures for security had been undertaken. She called attention to the camps, government work, giving employment to great numbers who would otherwise be desperate, also the promise of the President to ask for appropriations for our navy to make it second to none. Adequate protection is necessary since in studying Europe, we see that England is disturbed and does not want war. The water-way has become a defense issue with Canada; France is hoarding her gold and is frightened; Hitler is preparing to defend Germany and he feels that he must be able to conquer Italy has an eye on the Balkans and Russia has the largest standing army, although we have no statistics available, it is known that she is ready and has trained her women for war when it comes.

Mrs. Schimmel said, "We must have adequate defense. We are now the 16th in the armament of the world and our army and air force should be raised."

The speaker with great earnestness spoke of the importance of the home in these turbulent times as a powerful phase of national defense, which women must understand. She brought out the point that children must be taught how to make the new social order. Healthy bodies and healthy minds must be the goal of every thinking person. She further added that in meeting the distressing situations which nearly every home in our land is experiencing, it is only peace and hope given through the power of prayer which will sustain the homes of the nation during this social revolution. The speaker also reminded the audience that in order to have national security we must be not only justly proud of our homes but all of our governing bodies and that we must seek patriotic education in our schools and colleges.

In closing Mrs. Schimmel confidently said that to uphold our highest ideals spiritually and morally even with great sacrifice would bring National security for the future.
